REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

It was a great start for a brand new school. Students and parents came together from our three "feeder" schools, along with staff members from all over the district. We established our mission and vision statements, along with our School Improvement Plan, together during the summer and into the first part of the school year, thereby setting our course for success.

Our PTO (with the financial support of the PTO's from Okatie, Michael C. Riley, and Bluffton Elementary schools) got off to a great start as well. The board and its members have worked hard to establish a solid support system for the school, and are off to a great start.

Red Cedar prides itself on our RESPECT program. Students are encouraged to show that they are responsible, empathetic, self-disciplined, positive, show their best effort, are cooperative, and trust-worthy. It's working. We see these attributes displayed daily by nearly all of our students. We will continue to work on these areas of our students' development as people as much as we work on our students' academic needs.

Attendance was a challenge this year. We will continue to help families understand the need for their children to be in school every day unless they are ill.

We had great success with the Whatever It Takes (WIT) program, which is designed to deliver "just-in-time" instruction to students on a daily basis. We could not have done it without the unparalleled assistance from our WIT volunteers, parents, and especially our community members.

We look forward to a great "sophomore" year.

Dr. Kathleen Corley, principal
Ms. Chavon Coleman, assistant principal
